Philadelphia Inventor Receives Pate for Destruction of Hostile

Millemetad, Curacae, July 21.—Confirmation of a reported mutiny of the starts of Falcon, Veneguela, was received here today.

The rebels are in command and exercising the functions of government. Telegraphic dispatches from here remain unanswered.

All indications point to the move having been made by adherents of former President Cipriano Castro, who is supposed to be near here aboard a steamer which has not been reported.

Letters addressed to Castro ils at the general delivery office here.

Gen. Rafael de Nogales-Mendes, leader of the Nationalists party of, the Venezuelan border states, said today his party welcomed the probability of Castro's return to Venezuela because it would bring political affairs there to a crisia. Nogales-Mendes knows Castro's followers are preparing for his return and daily expects news that the former president has landed on South American soil.

"Castro's return and daily expects news that the former president has landed on South American soil.

"Castro's he said. "probably will make straight for Cucula, Colombia, on the Venezuelan border, and start, his invasion from there.

For field defense Mr. Steinmets has advocated the use of three-inch field-gun ammunition. For naval defense he states that my available ammunition, even up to the weight of a six-inch shell, can be used. The inventor points out that whether the exploding shell ruins the aircraft or not is immaterial. Such an explosion around a dirigible would ignite every gas bag in turn, while upon an acoptane the bioding flash and terrible report would numb the aviator and cause his machine to dash to ruin before he could regain his faculties.
